

$6.2 million banana.

<https://www.businessinsider.com/crypto-investor-buys-6m-banana-100-000-more-from-vendor-2024-11>

Crazy things go on in the art world, especially with crypto billionaires who want the one and only to brag about. Christies sale of Beeple's Everydays for $69 million is an example.

The volatility in the art world is why I worked all these years on developing an absolutely unique entry into a field that is overcrowded with would be AI artists who can make pictures in minutes and offer them for sale on marketplaces for practically nothing.

Kelly Crow - Wall Street Journal Art Market Reporter

"If you can create a look that is recognizably yours, you can go to the bank all day."

Prowly Magazine - Virginie Berger - Journalist

"In the fine art world, uniqueness is everything."

Renée Phillips - Director/Curator of Manhattan Arts International

"What makes your art desirable is if you have a unique style and medium and have excelled in your area of expertise."